"The big baby appears to be enveloped in the bloody shirt."

GEN. TOM EWING will remain in congress where he can be of more service to the country than as governor of Ohio.

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the fact that Newark, N. J., went democratic. Faithful among the faithful found.

EVERYTHING is harmonious among the Ohio democracy. There is no unseemly quarrelling among the brethren over the United States senatorship, etc., etc.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer announces—officially—that it has given up the idea of attempting to reform the world in a day, but that it will continue to print the boss newspaper at the old stand.

There is a tariff of forty percent on imported silver plate. Mr. LOBB-LARD, the owner of Parole, has a cup valued at $2,500 won by his horse which he cannot bring home without paying $1,000 duty.

AMONG the republican aspirants for the Ohio senatorship are GARFIELD, TAFT, SHERMAN, DENYSON, FOSTER and MATTHEWS. Combine them all and they wouldn't be able to more than rattle around in Judge THURMAN'S place.

JAY GOULD and the other money kings who control the great corporations of the country are greatly rejoiced at Senator THURMAN'S prospective retirement from the senate. He was in the habit of giving them a good deal of trouble.

JUDGE THURMAN'S political career is not yet ended. He is too big a man to be killed off so easily. He will remain in the senate until March 4, 1881, and he will then step into the cabinet of our democratic president—probably as secretary of state.

The dimensions of the great republican victory in Ohio have diminished considerably since Tuesday night. The latest returns place the figures at 20,000 instead of 40,000, as at first claimed. There is a melancholy satisfaction in seeing the figures shrink.

The Buffalo Express, a protectionist paper, says: "Shall we get a steamship by subsidy or by free trade in ships? There are only two ways." The Express is in favor of a subsidy and it may be good republican doctrine but it is not democratic. There is nothing so at variance with the legitimate functions of a government as the use of the taxing power to create a subsidy to support an unprofitable industry.

THE republican claim to being the party that brought about resumption is only equalled in assurance by the claim of the same party to having put down the rebellion. It was not the politicians, but the people of this country, with their strong arms, who put down the rebellion, and it was through the energy and labor of the people, aided by a fertile soil and favorable seasons, that resumption was brought about. Resumption comes to a government just as it does to an individual, by economy and an increase of income.

STATE POLITICS.

An effort is being made in certain quarters to organize a Maunson gubernatorial boom.

The Indianapolis Journal wants the next national republican convention to be held in that city.

There is a wide spread feeling in favor of Senator McDonald as the democratic nominee for governor in 1880.

Among the republicans there is a strong element favoring the nomination of Orth for governor next year. Wouldn't the democrats wallop him, though?

NEWS NOTES.

FOREIGN FLASHES.

The Princess Louise sails to-day for England.

A great anti-rent meeting has been called to be held at Eaniscorthy on the 26th.

Specie in the Bank of France has decreased 31,626,000 francs in the past week.

A Capetown dispatch says operations against the chief Zococent will commence immediately.

The Paris Temps says Russia has reduced her force of sailors in the Black Sea to barely 1,000 men.

A correspondent reports that Gambetta will shorten his vacation and return to Paris immediately.

Bullion in the Bank of England has decreased $664,000 pounds in the past week. Proportion of reserve to liability, 50.1-16 percent.

On the subsidence of the flood in the province of Murcia, Spain, thirty dead bodies were found. It is believed over 100 persons perished.

The French cabinet has decided to issue circulars ordering the local authorities to suppressal communist and other illegal demonstrations.

A Berlin correspondent telegraphs that it is stated that the British government has refused to discuss with Russia the questions relative to the Afghan war.

Extensive inundations have occurred in Labrador, Mexico, where the loss caused by the destruction of corn, cocoa and tobacco crops is estimated at $1,000,000.

ment to commence negotiations on the basis of the thirteenth protocol of the treaty of Berlin. The Porte has already agreed to this basis. The commission will probably reassemble within a week.

It is feared that the help which the Hungarian government proposes to afford to the distressed agriculturalists will come too late to permit of autumn and winter sowing. Throughout the country thousands of people lack money with which to purchase food, as the tax gatherers have seized all their possessions.

MacDonald, who presided over a conference of delegates representing 140,000 miners at Leeds, England, yesterday, repudiated the assertion current in Pennsylvania that he had said he would flood America with English miners. He said he had always advocated that men should not be sent by wholesale, but that emigration should be directed to localities where the demand for labor existed, by wise men sent from the central body.

A dispatch from Paris says that the statement in La France concerning Gambetta's views on the subject of plenary amnesty is probably correct, but supposing he were ostensibly to support the amnesty, it could not be imagined that he would have any ardent desire for its adoption. Were Gambetta to enable Rochefort to return to Paris, he would simply be creating for himself a troublesome opponent, if not a rival. Were Rochefort to stand for Belleville at the next election for members of the chamber of deputies, he would assuredly run Gambetta very close.

Gen. Roberts upon entering Cabul made a speech announcing that severe punishment would be inflicted. The buildings of the Bala Hassar and of the city interfering with military occupation will be destroyed. A heavy fine will be levied on citizens.

A military governor will be placed over the city and the country within a radius of ten miles. All inhabitants under his jurisdiction will be required to surrender their arms within a week on the pain of death if they fail to do so. Rewards will be paid for the conviction of any person concerned in the massacre of the British embassy.

Mrs. Czacki, the newly appointed nunzio at Paris, has presented his credentials to President Grevy. Czacki said he counted upon President Grevy's kindness and the support of his government to bring about a perfect agreement between church and state. The union of church and state, he said, was the best protection for their common interest, and to afford the mutual satisfaction of those interests was the principal aim of his mission. President Grevy replied that the maintenance and strengthening of the good relations existing between France and the holy see was an object of constant solicitation to the French government.

The grand jury of Jefferson county, Ky., has dismissed the case against Thomas G. Moore, who shot and wounded Col. M. Lewis Clark, president of the Louisville Jockey Club, two weeks ago.

Ex-Prosecuting attorney Thompson, of Urbana, Ill., narrowly escaped assassination the other night. Old grudges against his course while prosecuting attorney are supposed to have instigated the attack.

Express Messenger Grimes has identified Stevens, one of the suspected train robbers arrested at Holden, Mo. He did not recognize Campbell, but evidence is rapidly accumulating against both. No other arrests have yet been made.

J. Young, a wife beater, of New Philadelphia, O., was taken the other night by a party of men in the gas works, and the warm coal tar pumped down his back and over his body. When it cooled he was completely incased in a coat of solid tar. The man is badly injured.

The jury of inquest in the case of Jno. M. Nelson, shot in the Front street theatre, Baltimore, Tuesday night, rendered a verdict of "gross carelessness," and utterly condemn the use of fire arms under such circumstances, and think it should be prohibited by law. Oxford, N. C., is in a flutter of excitement over the elopement of Miss Ruth Wood, the daughter of a prominent citizen, with Sanford Weaver, a man without money and as blind as a bat, and who for several years was in a lunatic asylum. The girl is highly accomplished, and although but 17 has been the reigning belle in that section.

A horrible outrage was committed at Oshkosh, Wis., Wednesday night. Nic Reimer lives alone, having only a housekeeper named Miss Frankie Miller. The dead body of C. J. Winfree, of Richmond, Va., was found on the railroad track near the penitentiary at Columbus, O., yesterday. It is supposed that Winfree was murdered, robbed and placed on the track to convey the impression that he had been killed by a passing train. A post mortem examination disclosed wounds that could not be made by a railroad car. Winfree had been negotiating the sale of some valuable property, and it is supposed the parties who assailed him did so because they believed he had a large sum of money on his person. When found the body had been stripped of all valuables.

POLITICAL.

Foster's majority will be 20,000. Later returns make Gear's majority in Iowa 8,000 over Trimble democrat, and 15,000 over Campbell, republican. Twenty-six out of twenty-nine senators and eighty-three out of 100 representatives are republican.

Creation of Dr. LeMoine. The cremation of Dr. LeMoine, at Washington, Pa., to-day, was conducted with strict privacy. At 9 o'clock the friends and relatives assembled at his late residence, when selections from the scriptures were read and a prayer offered by Dr. Hayes. Dr. LeMoine in late years did not affiliate with any church, and the services were not sectarian. The body was removed to the hearse and taken to the crematory, followed by carriages containing relatives and friends, and on arriving at the destination the body was placed on the catafalque, and all persons except the relatives and those in charge of the furnace removed outside the building.

At 10:30 the body was pushed into the glowing furnace and the doors closed. Owing to the fact that the firemen were in experienced, the heat was considerably below what it should have been, and the cremation was not complete until after four o'clock this afternoon, at which time the retort was sealed, and will remain closed till Saturday. If cool enough then it will be opened and the ashes placed in an urn provided for the purpose by the family. There was no excitement in the village over the event, and not more than a hundred people were around the building when the body was placed in the furnace.

The Georgia Legislature. The general assembly of Georgia has adjourned since the adjournment session of 180 days, during which time two impeachment trials took place, also condemnatory and very damaging reports were made by other special investigating committees against heads of other departments, making this the most memorable legislature in the history of the state. The trumped-up charges against United States District Judge John Erskine are said to be of little consequence, and emanate from a malevolent source. John Conly, a young attorney, son of ex-Gov. Conly, at present postmaster at Atlanta, is the instigator of the charges.

HANLAN-COURTNEY FIZZLE.

Hanlan Has a Walk-over—Charges and Counter Charges of Corruption.

At Maysville, N. Y., yesterday, at nearly 4 o'clock, Plakie, the referee, accompanied by John David, of Windsor, Ont., judge for Hanlan, members of the press, time-keepers, etc., called at Courtney's quarters and sent word to Courtney that he wished him to come out to the track at 4:30, or one of Hanlan's boats, even at the loss of the race. Courtney absolutely refused. Hanlan then rowed over the course, five miles, in 35:54, and claimed the money, $4,000.

Courtney makes a statement that when he went to Rochester to arrange the preliminaries of the race with David Ward, of Toronto, and Hanlan called at his room in the hotel, and after some talk Ward said Hanlan would not go to Chateaugay, that it seemed a pity, for it was a nice sum to row for, and they could divide the purse. Courtney made no reply, and the visitors soon left. He did not see them again till he met them here, when Ward said Hanlan could not be drawn out to row with a tug chain unless he was sure of winning, and proposed to Courtney that if he would let Hanlan win he would have half the purse, or $3,000. Courtney rejected the proposition, saying that he believed he could beat Hanlan, and certainly should if he lay in his power. He was willing to stake his life that none of his men out the boats. It had always been customary to leave the boat houses unguarded. Ward afterwards offered Courtney the whole purse and a division of the pools to let Hanlan win, and he had been offered $10,000 and interest in the pools by other parties if he would allow Hanlan to be the winner. All these offers he steadily refused, being determined to win the race if possible, and saying that there was not money enough in America to make him lose if it were possible for him to win. "This race," said Courtney, "was the most villainous scheme ever concocted," and he expected to be able to prove that Ward wrote to New York that if he could fix the race he would telegraph: "I have bought a horse," if not, "I have bought a colt." The Hanlan Club never did row a square race.

Ward, being called upon to explain, said he had not made propositions of any kind, and would give $10,000 to any one that could produce such a letter as Courtney mentioned. Did not know of any proposition to sell out the race. Mr. Davis, of Windsor, Ont., made a statement to the effect that Mr. Bryster called upon him and said that if it was not fixed that Courtney should win the race that he would break his boat or play off; that they were prepared to give Hanlan half the purse if Courtney were allowed to win, and that Courtney would give Hanlan a letter to that effect. Thus the matter stands, each party charging the other with crookedness, and it is impossible to-night to find where the fraud lies. Plakie, the referee, gave Hanlan a check for $8,000, and Ronle says he will resist the payment until the men have rowed a race.

THE HAYDEN MURDER TRIAL.

Beginning of What Promises to be a Long and Bitter Contest.

The trial of the Methodist clergyman, Herbert H. Hayden, for the murder of Mary Stannard, the girl with whom he was alleged to have been criminally intimate, has reached the first interesting stage, at New Haven, Ct. The trial began last week, but owing to error in the indictment, the latter was quashed, and proceedings commenced de novo under a fresh indictment. This alleges the use of arsenic, a knife, and a large jagged stone with which the skull was crushed. The case is regarded with the greatest interest all through New England, and Methodists have subscribed to meet the legal expenses outside those for experts and other witnesses, which the state will pay, the prisoner having no personal means. The trial will be a long and bitter contest, and a heavy array of counsel has been engaged. The defense have three of the best criminal lawyers in the state, including President Watson, of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railway. The murder having been committed in an untraveled roadway, and no eye-witnesses being present, the state is compelled to rely upon circumstantial evidence. The line of defense will be an alibi, and an effort will be made to shift the crime on the father of the girl, who had reasons for desiring to rid himself of her, she having one illegitimate child living, and believing herself again pregnant. In selecting the jury, Irishmen or Roman Catholics were challenged by the defense without exception, and Hayden may have the possible benefit from the presence on the jury of six farmers, he having worked at farming to help out a pitiful ministerial salary. The evidence for the state is principally to show the fact of death, and one physician testified that the first post mortem showed that the girl was pregnant. She had believed she was, and the state will endeavor to show that this furnished Hayden a motive for killing her. Prof. White, of Yale Medical College, testified to removing parts of the body at various times for analysis for poison. On one occasion the head was severed from the body and carried off in a common wooden tobacco pail. The defense vainly endeavored to get an admission from the witness that the arsenic found in the girl's body might have been placed there at some of the exhumations.

A Plagiaristic Preacher. The Chicago papers are making out a bad looking case of plagiarism against Rev. Dr. Lorimer, of the First Baptist Church. In his sermon last Sunday evening, from Matthew xii, 6, several passages occur which are word for word the same as some used by Dr. Parker, in London, September 29th, 1878. These passages would fill a column of the SENTINEL. Dr. L., who was formerly of Boston, explains that he has a tenacious memory—too good in fact; that when he reads striking language it is impossible to forget it, and when he comes to express his thoughts he unconsciously appropriates the words of another which he has happened to read; that this habit has so grown upon him that in prayer meeting he frequently repeats verbatim a prayer which he has heard only a few minutes before, and knows nothing of it until he is told.

STEWART'S STEALERS.

The Mystery About to be Cleared Up and the Guilty Parties Arrested.

It is reported that the mystery regarding the A. T. Stewart body-snatching case will soon be cleared up; and some, if not all the resurrectionists will be arrested. Detectives who have been following up the case for months have, it is said, collected evidence which will in a short time be instrumental in the recovery of Stewart's body and convict the ghosts who robbed the grave some months ago. Gen. Patrick H. Jones, a lawyer of New York, received a letter signed Henry J. Romaine, from Boston, stating the conditions upon which the body would be restored. A letter had previously been received from the same party dated Montreal, and giving the details of the robbery and other evidence showing it came from the thieves themselves. The Boston letter mentioned the fact that Gen. Jones had been followed to police headquarters and seen in conference with the police officials. Acting on this the detectives spotted a well known character continually loitering about police headquarters, and in the vicinity of Gen. Jones's office. He was shadowed from place to place and finally tracked to Montreal, where he met a lawyer of that city two weeks ago. Other discoveries have also been made within the last few days and the police believe the chain of evidence is nearly complete. The officials, however, are still very reticent and refuse to give any details.

THE INDIANS.

Serious Depredations in the Rio Grande Valley—Emigrant Trains Attacked—Forty Persons Killed.

The Indians have been committing terrible depredations in the Rio Grande valley and southwest of Fort Comman for several days past. The people of Colorado have been besieged and fighting since Saturday, and appeal for aid. On Sunday a volunteer company of twenty men went to their aid. They met 100 Indians near Colorado, eighteen miles from Slocum's rancho, on the side of the road. After a severe fight the volunteers were compelled to fall back. They had a running fight into Slocum's rancho. The killed in the fight were W. T. Jones, county clerk of Donahue county, and four Mexicans. On the receipt of the news at Mesilla, two companies of eighty men were raised, composed of the best men in the Mesilla Valley, to go to Colorado. Two trains were captured on the west side of Slocum's. In one of them eleven men, one woman and a child were killed. In the other all hands escaped. Both trains were scattered, some of the oxen killed and others left standing in their yokes. The corpses lie all along the road. The number of persons known to have been killed within the past four or five days aggregate about forty.

LABOR NOTES.

The International Division of Locomotive Engineers is in annual convention at Kansas City, Mo.

The cigarmakers working for Snider Bros., at Connersville, Ind., struck Wednesday for an advance of fifty cents per 1,000. The firm refuses to comply, and the men are forming a union.

The iron moulders at four union foundries in Evansville, Ind., have struck for an advance of fifteen percent over board prices. The employers answered, agreeing to abide by the result of the strikes in Cincinnati and Louisville. The men all quit, and announce that they will not resume under any circumstances unless the advance is made. The men in one "snob" shop made the same demand, and returned to work under the same assurance.

YELLOW FEVER NOTES.

Seven cases in all, five white and two colored, were reported at Memphis Thursday.

One more death has occurred at Forest City, Tenn., a daughter of Frank Whitaker. One new case is reported, a Miss Wade. Dr. W. Cummings, of the state board of health, telegraphed the national board for $1,000 to employ a guard to prevent persons in the country not exposed to the disease, from coming to town, and for disinfecting purposes. Seven deaths have occurred and six persons are still sick.

RENEFACTORS.

When a board of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well-known valuable remedies, the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were sceptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all as benefactors.

W. E. NELSON, S. E. MORRIS, PUBLISHERS.

OFFICIAL PAPER—CITY AND COUNTY.

Daily, 25¢ a month; Weekly, 10¢ a week; Single copies, 5¢.

Circulation 4,000.

The rag baby appears to be enveloped in the bloody shirt.

GEN. TOM EWING will remain in Congress where he can be of more service to the country than as governor of Ohio.

Too much stress cannot be laid upon the fact that Newark, N. J., went democratic. Faithful among the faithful found.

EVERYTHING is harmonious among the Ohio democracy. There is no unseemly quarrelling among the brethren over the United States senatorship, etc., etc.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer announces—officially—that it has given up the idea of attempting to reform the world in a day, but that it will continue to print the boss newspaper at the old stand.

There is a tariff of forty percent on imported silver plate. Mr. LORILLARD, the owner of Parole, has a cup valued at $2,500 won by his horse which he cannot bring home without paying $1,000 duty.

AMONG the republican aspirants for the Ohio senatorship are GARFIELD, TAFT, SHERMAN, DENISON, FOSTER and MATTHEWS. Combine them all and they would not be able to more than rattle around in Judge THURMAN's place.

JAY GOULD and the other money kings who control the great corporations of the country are greatly rejoiced at Senator THURMAN's prospective retirement from the senate. He was in the habit of giving them a good deal of trouble.

JUDGE THURMAN's political career is not yet ended. He is too big a man to be killed so easily. He will remain in the senate until March 4, 1881, and he will then step into the cabinet of our democratic president—probably as secretary of state.

THE dimensions of the great republican victory in Ohio have diminished considerably since Tuesday night. The latest returns place the figures at 20,000 instead of 40,000, as at first claimed. There is a melancholy satisfaction in seeing the figures shrink.

The Buffalo Express, a protectionist paper, says: "Shall we get a steam marine by subsidy or by free trade in ships? There are only two ways." The Express is in favor of a subsidy and it may be good republican doctrine but it is not democratic. There is nothing so at variance with the legitimate functions of a government as the use of the taxing power to create a subsidy to support an unprofitable industry.

THE republican claim to being the party that brought about resumption is only equalled in assurance by the claim of the same party to having put down the rebellion. It was not the politicians, but the people of this country, with their strong arms, who put down the rebellion, and it was through the energy and labor of the people, aided by a fertile soil and favorable seasons, that resumption was brought about. Resumption comes to a government just as it does to an individual, by economy and an increase of income.

STATE POLITICS.

An effort is being made in certain quarters to organize a Manson gubernatorial boom.

The Indianapolis Journal wants the next national republican convention to be held in that city.

There is a wide spread feeling in favor of Senator McDonald as the democratic nominee for governor in 1880.

Among the republicans there is a strong element favoring the nomination of Orth for governor next year. Wouldn't the democrats wallop him, though?

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Prof. Wise's Great Balloon Ascension in 1859.

A Recollection of Local Interest Connected With It.

Now since it is generally accepted that Prof. Wise and his companion, Geo. Burr, who ascended in the balloon "Pathfinder" from St. Louis on last Sunday a week ago, it may be of some local interest to know that this same Prof. John Wise passed over this city on the morning of the second of July, 1859, at about 4.15 and heard the shouts of the inhabitants, and it may yet be in the recollection of some of the older inhabitants.

The occasion was the memorable ascension and trip in which Wise and three companions left St. Louis at 6.30
p. m. on the first of July and landed at Henderson, Jefferson county, N. Y., at 2.30 p. m. on the second, making the whole distance, not less than 1,200 miles, in nineteen hours and fifty minutes, or an average of sixty miles per hour. Wm. Hyde, of the St. Louis Republican, who was one of the voyagers, refers to their passage over Fort Wayne as follows:
"Day broke at 3 o'clock, and dogs began to bark. At 4.15 they sailed over Fort Wayne, Ind., and could hear the shouts of the inhabitants.
At 5.15 the mercury in the barometer showed their altitude to be nearly one mile. They could then hear the lowing of the cows with distinctness. In seven minutes more the barometer indicated twenty-three and a half inches. Their altitude, therefore, was then about two miles."

The Logansport Journal gives an extended account of the adventures of David Lowry and Mrs. Trease.
They registered at the Windsor House
as D. Lawrence and wife, of Mansfield, O. Afterwards they moved to a private boarding house, where they were brother and sister. All went smoothly until on Wednesday morning, at about 5 o'clock, when Mr. Trease accompanied by an officer stepped in on the guilty couple.

Mrs. Trease accompanied her husband to a justice's office, where she made an affidavit that she had been living in open adultery with Lowry.
This affidavit is now in the hands of Esq. Beck, and on it is based the petition for a divorce filed yesterday morning.

Mrs. Trease has signified her intention of going to her home at Massachusetts, and Lowry will probably patch up matters and return to his wife.

The Fort Wayne DAILY SENTINEL

comes here every evening by the 5

The SENTINEL is a good paper, and we are glad to notice evidence of its popularity.

In Districts Formerly Ravaged
by fever and ague, humanity from the dreadful scourge is enjoyed by those who have rendered their systems invulnerable with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the best preventive and remedy. Quinine cannot compare with it in efficiency, and is anything but safe. Physicians commend this bitter for its remedial and recuperating properties, and the closest analysis reveals nothing in the composition of a deleterious nature. It does not deteriorate, is an agreeable cordial as well as a potent medicine, and when mixed with brackish or unwholesome water neutralizes its hurtful properties. The demand for this medicine is not only in the United States, but the tropics, regard it as an invaluable protection, and in hosts of families it is kept constantly on hand as the life of emigration spreads farther westward, the demand for it among those compelled to encounter the vicissitudes of climate, constantly increases.

In Districts Formerly Ravaged by fever and ague, immunity from the dreadful scourge is enjoyed by those who have rendered their systems material proof with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the best preventive and remedy. Quinine cannot compare with it in efficacy, and is anything but safe. Physicians commend the Bitters for its remedial and restorative properties, and the closest analysis reveals nothing in the composition of a deleterious nature. It does not deteriorate, is an agreeable cordial as well as a potent medi-caline, and when mixed with brackish or unwholesome water neutralizes its hurtful properties. The denizens of malarious localities, not only in the United States, but the tropics, regard it as an invaluable protection, and in hosts of families it is kept constantly on hand. As the tide of emigration spreads further westward, the demand for it among those compelled to encounter the vicissitudes of climate, constantly increases.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

Prof. Wise's Great Balloon Ascension in 1859.

A Recollection of Local Interest Connected With It.

Now since it is generally accepted that Prof. Wise and his companion, Geo. Burr, who ascended in the balloon "Pathfinder" from St. Louis on last Sunday the morning of the second of July, 1859, at about 4.15 and heard the shouts of the inhabitants, and it may yet be in the recollection of some of the older inhabitants.

The occasion was the memorable ascension and trip in which Wise and three companions left St. Louis at 6.30 p. m., on the first of July and landed at Henderson, Jefferson county, N. Y., at 2.30 p. m. on the second, making the whole distance, not less than 1,200 miles, in nineteen hours and fifty minutes, or an average of sixty miles per hour. Wm. Hyde of the St. Louis Republican who was one of the voyagers, refers to their passage over Fort Wayne as follows: "Day broke at 3 o'clock, and dogs began to bark. At 4.15 they sailed over Fort Wayne, Ind., and could hear the shouts of the inhabitants. At 4.15 the mercury in the barometer showed their altitude to be nearly one mile. They could then hear the lowing of the cows with distinctness. In seven minutes more the barometer indicated twenty-three and a-half inches. Their altitude, therefore, was then about two miles."

TREASE'S TROUBLES.
Dave Lowry and His Affinity at Logansport.

The Logansport Journal gives an extended account of the adventures of David Lowry and Mrs. Trease. They registered at the Windsor House as D. Lawrence and wife, of Mansfield, O. Afterwards they moved to a private boarding house, where they were brother and sister. All went smoothly until on Wednesday morning, at about 5 o'clock, when Mr. Trease accompanied by an officer stepped in on the guilty couple.

Mrs. Trease accompanied her husband to a justice's office, where she made an affidavit that she had been living in open adultery with Lowry. This affidavit is now in the hands of Esq. Beck, and on it is based the petition for a divorce filed yesterday morning.

Mrs. Trease has signified her intention of going to her home at Mansfield, O., and Lowry will probably patch up matters and return to his wife.
